

Sinclair Broadcasting's decision to air "Stolen Honor" is a clear violation of 'equal time' campaign regulations. Recall the fuss that the Republican party made over the release of the biased "Fahrenheit 911" one month before the election. That release requires a purchase and is NOT on the public airwaves. This program is also biased, but will be shown on public airwaves.

This is also a personal affront to me because I lost several friends and a brother in Vietnam. Few of us in this position would criticize the service of anyone who served there. We speak for those who cannot speak. People who did serve there and criticize others either never faced any real danger or have esteem issues that need to be addressed.

Back to the real issue. If the FCC allows the airing of this piece of trash, I will have lost all respect for the agency. You will be just another 'Izvestia (sp?)'. The rules are supposed to apply to ALL equally, or we may as well toss out the rules. Think about it!
